Basic course:
The system displays the home page (which doubles as the game selection page) showing four large game selection buttons with the name and description of the game. The player presses one of the game selection buttons. The system checks which game was selected. The system displays the page for the selected game

Game

Display game catalog

Player

Clicks a game selection button

Game selection page

Display game difficulty page

Select difficulty